D. C. Walling, et al

vs.

Lantana Coal Company, et al.
In the Chancery Court at Crossville, Tennessee.

In this cause, it appearing from the original bill, which is sworn to, that the defendants, the Lantana Coal Company, and the Missouri Coal & Land Company, are non-resident corporations, and have no place of business or resident officer in the State of Tennessee, and that Chas. C. Leeds, Trustee, is a non-resident of the State, and that the names, ages and places of residence of the heirs of H. E. Bartlett, are unknown to complainants, and cannot be ascertained upon diligent inquiry, and that the said unknown heirs of the said H. E. THE COUNTY FAIR

By Peter Radford

Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

The farmer gets more out of the fair than anyone else. The fair to a city man is an entertainment; to a farmer it is education. Let us take a stroll through the fair grounds and linger a moment at a few of the points of greatest interest. We will first visit the mechanical department and hold communion with the world's greatest thinkers.

You are now attending a congress of the mental giants in mechanical science of all ages. They are addressing you in tongues of iron and steel and in language mute and powerful tell an eloquent story of the world's progress. The inventive geniuses are the most valuable farm hands we have and they perform an enduring service to mankind. We can all help others for a brief period while we live, but it takes a master mind to tower into the realm of science and light a torch of progress that will illuminate the pathway of civilization for future generations. The men who gave us the sickle, the binder, the cotton gin and hundreds of other valuable inventions work in every field on earth and will continue their labors as long as time. Their bright intellects have conquered death and they will live and serve mankind on and on forever, without money and without price. They have shown us how grand and noble it is to work for others; they have also taught us lessons in economy and efficiency, how to make one hour do the work of two or more; have lengthened our lives, multiplied our opportunities and taken toll off the back of humanity.

They are the most practical men the world ever produced. Their inventions have stood the acid test of utility and efficiency. Like all useful men, they do not seek publicity, yet millions of machines sing their praises from every harvest field on earth and as many plows turn the soil in mute applause of their marvelous achievements.

Graft in German Prisons.

In Cologne, Germany, at a recent court trial, it was asserted that as soon as a well-dressed prisoner appeared in the prison he was beset with attentions from the wardens, all eager for his patronage. Their object was to act as middlemen between him and his relatives. They would convey letters, money and food, and for these services receive their reward from the relatives of the prisoners.

New Idea in Oratory.

Lord John Russell created a curious precedent when he gave way to tears owing to the postponement of the British "reform bill" 75 years ago.

As showing the possibilities for tree growth in regions where irrigation has to be depended upon, it is pointed out that Boise, Idaho, has as many as 94 different kinds of ornamental and shade trees.

HIS FIRST DEER.

The writer has just received a letter from a brother in Idaho, telling of killing a large buck, which made me think of my first deer hunt, away back in the sixties.

I borrowed a small squirrel rifle and pulled out for the Cumberland mountain about five miles away. When I reached the top I stopped to see which way the wind was blowing and found it was from the east.

I struck up a flat hollow until I came to where it looked and stopped to meditate and while standing there I heard the "all-fired" racket I ever heard. Being a boy and all alone I thought I was a goner. I did not wait long until

I saw a big doe and a large buck coming. I took the best aim I could and down came one of them and got up just as quick and away it went. I took after it but did not go far until I found it dead. I fixed it up so I could carry it and took it to one of my uncle's something like a mile away. Any old hunter knows the fun they had out of me about the first deer I ever killed.

MORE DOUBLE TRACK.

Southern Railway to Spend Million and a Half in That Work.

The Southern Railway will proceed at once to revise and double track the 28.7 miles of its Washington-Atlanta line lying between Orange and Charlottesville, Va., the work to involve an expenditure of $1,500,000 and to result in a greatly improved line both as to grades and curvature. Bids for the grading are being received from contractors in the office of W. H. Wells, chief engineer of construction, under whose direction the work will be done.

The completion of this work together with other work now under way will give the Southern a continuous stretch of 121 miles of double track out of Washington and a total of 338.7 miles of double track between Washington and Charlotte, leaving only 41.3 miles of single track, divided into four stretches the longest of which is 20 miles.

The revision between Orange and Charlottesville will eliminate 1303 degrees of curvature of nearly four complete circles and will give a maximum grade northbound of 0.9 percent and southbound of 1 percent as against 1.41 percent in both directions at present.

The work to be done is very heavy and will furnish labor for a large number of men and cause heavy expenditures in the territory immediately affected. In undertaking it at this time when receipts from both freight and passenger traffic are much below normal, the Southern Railway Company is giving striking evidence of President Harrison's faith in the business future of the South and his determination to furnish adequate facilities, the necessary capital fortunately having been provided before the outbreak of the present European war.

VOTING IN HAWAII.

Filipino and Hawaiian men are being considered as fit candidates for the sovereign right of voting citizens of the United States. Delegate Kalaniano'le introduced the Hawaii suffrage bill in the House of Representatives, December 29, 1914.

Should these said inhabitants be favored with the ballot, we may watch with considerable interest how Filipino and Hawaiian men decide questions affecting women of the United States.

Southern women may not relish their new political masters, and are surely as capable of deciding political problems for themselves as are these island men of different race, and social environment.

American women are at least the equals of the dusky men of Hawaii and the Philippines, and worthy of the same political trust. To continue our women as disenfranchised in the government is to stamp them as political inferiors to these new aspirants for the vote in the Pacific waters.
